Ravens over the Steelers

This week's match up had the Ravens and the Steelers set to play for first place in the division. The first half featured both teams' defenses making all the plays and both teams going to the half time message, scoreless. The major action began with under four minutes on the clock. The Raven's, Frank Selvaggio hit Chris Bouie on forth down to keep a drive alive and just two plays latter the combination struck again for the games first points. It looked as though the Steeler's were going to copy what the Raven's had done but their forth down pass deflected off of the receivers shoulder and was intercepted. You would think the Raven's would do some ball control and end the game, but they tried to catch the Steelers off guard by going deep. The Steelers Jay Alvarez made a great play on the ball to knock it away. The Raven's were able to convert a forth-down pass play into a first down and diminish some of the Steeler's hope. But it was the Steeler's, Jay Alvarez that came up big again, this time intercepting the ball in the end zone. Although the Steelers put together a valiant scoring drive, it was to no avail due to the heads up play of the Raven defense. Mark you calendars for the next time these two teams meet – it should be a great one.

- Raven's - QB, Frank Selvaggio connects with receiver Chris Bouie from 9 yards out and the TD.
- Steeler's - Mike Ryan records two sacks and a drive-ending stop on forth down.
- Raven's Kevin Nichols makes a heads up play by intercepting a deflected pass to end a drive.
- The Steeler's, Jay Alvarez intercepts a pass in the Raven's end zone, has a sack, and bats away a deep ball
- The Raven's rookie Pavel Fesyuk, has his best game of the season with an open field de-flagging of Mike Hughes, a sack and when collaborating with teammate Gabe Campa, makes a drive ending play.
- The Raven's, Chris Burke make several key play stops by batting down the ball and adding more sacks to his stats – all with out his beloved bandanna!
- The Raven's, PJ "Cheeseburger" Reed makes a key sack.

Do we make God sick?

The Bill's Captain, Mario Cash was our speaker this week. Mario brought us some facts about the Laodiceans. The importance of those facts is it helps us get a better understanding of what Jesus said and why. The last book in the Bible, Revelation, gives us tremendous insight into what is to come. God has preserved for us an incredible account of what God allowed John to see and hear. Jesus, when speaking to John, commands him to record some things that He (Jesus) has to say about seven different churches. What Jesus had to say about the church at Laodicea was more than disturbing. As Mario brought out, it was the only church that Jesus had nothing good to say about. Why did Mario choose to tell us about this? I believe it is because of the importance that it has for us today. Laodiceans were rich in material, wealth, and knowledge, and felt they needed no one – including God. As we look at society we can't help but notice the glaring similarities, but we must go further. Let's be honest with ourselves, can those similarities be seen in us? God was very matter of fact as to how this made Him feel. Are we making God sick? This writer must confess that I have a long way to go. We must wake up and turn to God and see what He wants for us, and then live for Him. That can only happen at one starting place – the cross and Jesus. Please don't let another message go by the wayside of your heart. Take the time to see what the Bible has to say about your eternity.

Revelation 3:19

As many as I love,
I rebuke and chasten:
be zealous therefore,
and repent.

Packers stay unbeaten

The Falcons were poised to knock the mighty Packers. Things looked great for the Falcons as QB, Dennis Allen went deep early and found Todd Petroske. The play covered nearly 40 yards. Things continued to go well until the Packers LB, Josh Bouk stepped in front of a pass to end the Falcons Drive. The Packers also had a key interception from Bob Braunselwenger, that put the Packers on the 3 yard line. The very next play had the Falcons Dan Ryan picking off a pass in the end zone. Dan then made a circus catch and ran all the way to the Packer 11-yard line. Carl Fantauzzo then took it in from there, behind a tremendous block from FB, Chris Perry. The second half had the Packers taking back the momentum when WR, Evan Tzimas dove and made a great catch in the end zone to tie the game. The Packers took the lead when McBride found his FB, Geoff Anselm for the extra point. Packer RB, Will Salmon started to wear down the Falcon defense, mainly due to the exceptional blocking from Jeff Philips, Brent Thompson, Bill Woodburn, Mark Ballister, and Jerry Opalecky. The Falcons QB, Rob Benedetto hit Carl Fantauzzo on a quick out and Fantauzzo took it 20 yards to put the Falcons in the red zone with under a minute to go. The extreme Packer pressure forced a bad pass that CB, Tim Trostle picked off and ended the game.

- Falcons RB, Carl Fantauzzo runs it in from 11 yards out
- Packers WR, Evan Tzimas makes a diving grab in the end zone to tie the game at 6
- Packers QB, Tim McBride completes the extra point pass to Geoff Anselm?
- Falcons DE's, Dennis Allen and James Monroe collect sacks
- Packers RB, Will Salmon score on a 10-yard run with 1:20 on the clock
- Packers DB, Tim Trostle intercepts a pass to end the game
